

Combat over-the-counter marketing hype and build your passive income through education.

Terri Vinson BSc. ASCC is an Australian cosmetic chemist and formulator of medically based cosmeceuticals and mineral makeup.

Australian cosmeceuticals and mineral makeup should be formulated for our harsh environmental conditions and believes that medical professionals can truly have the edge over high-end department store brands.

'Education is the basis of driving passive income in cosmetic medical practices.'

Terri will take you through a one day workshop covering techniques to drive your business with

- The consultation process and how to incorporate cosmeceuticals into the total package without 'selling'
- Educating your clients on scientifically based cosmeceuticals versus media-driven hype
- Clinical camouflage techniques and and post treatment colour correction with pure minerals
- Introducing new 'trauma free' clinical treatments with higher dollar returns from minimal initial investment
